Personal Profile (基本情况简介)

(around 150 words, including basic introduction, research direction, teaching experience as supervisor for international students)

Dali Zheng, Professor of Hospital and School of Stomatology, and PhD advisor for oral biology, got his PhD degree at Shanghai Jiaotong University School of Medicine, was research associate at University of South Florida for 4 years and postdoctoral fellow at Washington University in St Louis, University of Missouri for 4 years. His research is focused on the gene mutation, epigenetic regulation and molecular function of cancer-related genes, which was supported by National Natural Science Foundation of China (3 times), Fujian Natural Science Foundation (2 times) and other grants. He has published more than 50 research articles and reviews in international academic journals such as Nature Nanotechnology, JCI, Oncogene, PNAS, and serves as academic editor for the Journal of Oncology and reviewer for Cancer Letters, Signaling Transduction and Target Therapy, Ebiomedicine, and other 30 journals. He won First-class prize of Natural Science Award of Ministry of Education (4th authorship) in 2016, Second-class prize of Scientific Innovation Award of Fujian Province (2nd authorship) in 2017, and the title of "Distinguished Professor of Minjiang Scholarship" in 2018. His research is mostly focused on the molecular biology of oral cancer and oral microenvironment.
