Personal Profile (基本情况简介)

(around 150 words, including basic introduction, research direction, teaching experience as supervisor for international students)

Liu Xiumei, Female, born on December, 1979, doctor of medicine. Now working as the director of outpatient department of developmental behavioral pediatrics at Fujian Children's Hospital. I'm a postdoctoral fellow at Harvard University Massachusetts General Hospital and a national second-class psychological consultant. During the last five years, as a postgraduate supervisor of Qingdao University, Weifang Medical College and Binzhou Medical College, I have taught 153 undergraduates on children's growth and development, nutrition, health care and psychological disorders. I provide clinical and practical training to interns and residents monthly. From 2010 to 2012, I mentored 5 international students who were enrolled in Dalian Medical College on developmental and behavioral pediatrics. I dedicated to the study of children's neuropsychology, especially on the pathogenesis and treatment of children's tic disorder, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), autism, and global development disorder. I presided over five national, provincial and municipal projects, published more than 30 academic papers as the first author, and 8 papers were included in SCI.
